2014 Operating Subsidy Funding

Flat Rent Explanation and Q&As

In the 2014 Appropriations Act Congress appropriated $4.4 billion in Operating Subsidy, and indicated that HUD should take into account the impact of changes in flat rents on public housing agencies' formula income levels in determining funding allocations for public housing agencies. In the President's 2014 budget, flat rent savings were estimated at $40 million and resulted in a lowered budget request based on anticipated savings. Given the timing and complexities associated with the implementation changes in the flat rent provisions, it was not possible for the Department to specifically determine the impact of flat rent changes for each PHA. Therefore, HUD determined eligibility for all PHAs based on the Operating Subsidy formula, or their respective MTW contract agreement, and disbursed the final amount appropriated by Congress. As detailed in the proration explanation, Operating Subsidy eligibility for CY 2014, before adjustments, was $4,990,746,590. After taking the impact of flat rent into account, and adjusting for other factors, and funds to be deobligated, final eligibility was $4,953,915,658, resulting in a proration amount of 88.79%.

Question: My Public Housing Projects do not have any residents with flat rent. Does the flat rent proration still apply to me?

Answer: Yes. Because HUD could not determine the specific amount of flat rent for each project, the total funds appropriated were distributed across all agencies and resulted in a proration relative to each agency's eligibility. HUD applied a prorated amount of the flat rent savings included in the President's Budget ($40 million) to each project. This is consistent with the direction and authorization provided in the 2014 Appropriations Act.

Question: My Agency is an Alternative Operating Fund Formula MTW PHA. Pursuant to my MTW agreement formula income is not included in the determination of Operating Subsidy eligibility, and therefore the proration of flat rent should not be applied against the Operating Subsidy eligibility of my PHA.

Answer: The Appropriations Act directed HUD to take the impact of changes in flat rent into consideration in determining operating subsidy funding allocation. In order to fulfill this statutory mandate, HUD had to first conduct the analysis described in the summary above before arriving at the adjusted amount. The adjustment resulted in a proration, which was applied to every PHA. Given this statutory directive, it is within the Department's discretion to apply the adjustment equally in the form of a proration to MTW PHAs and non-MTW PHAs.
