

APPENDIX 7

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

ILLUSTRATION: Sources for Civil Rights/Equal Opportunity Data

- o Census Bureau, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20233
- o Women's Bureau, Employment Standards Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210
- o Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Office of Research, 2121 "K" Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506
- o Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210.
- o State and Local Data Sources

In addition to sources listed above, the following sources can provide useful detailed local data:

State and Local Employment Services. Basic data and special studies on employment and unemployment. Many State services prepare special skill employment and unemployment surveys, market studies, etc. Contact Offices of Research, Employer Relations or Labor Market staff at State level.

State and City Departments of Human Resources, and Departments of Industry, Labor or Commerce also prepare employment, unemployment and skill surveys. A listing of major State (as well as Federal) agencies concerned with manpower, employment, industrial relations and fair employment practices that can provide data and information on training programs and recruitment sources is: Labor Offices in the United States and Canada, Employment Standards Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210.

State and Local Planning Departments. Basic statistical demographic data by census tract and political jurisdiction. State Advisory Committees to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. Research and reports regarding housing and community development needs within the State and the impact of government programs in meeting these needs.

Civil Rights and Fair Housing Advocacy Groups. Data and studies regarding needs of minorities and women.

---

