Learn More About the SF Handbook Effort and Newly Posted Draft Application Through Endorsement Section - Web Session

Join FHA's Office of Single Family Housing for a one-hour web-based information session on our new Single Family Housing Policy Handbook (SF Handbook), and our draft Application through Endorsement section for Title II forward mortgages. This draft section is posted for review and feedback at http://portal.hud.gov/hudportal/HUD?src=/program_offices/housing/sfh/SFH_policy_drafts

Session Overview

In these sessions, you will:

- Learn more about the SF Handbook, our goals, and how this new, consolidated, single, authoritative source will make it easier for mortgagees to do business with FHA Single Family Housing.
- Find out how to navigate the draft Application through Endorsement section, the Table of Contents and other features so you and your staff can quickly and easily find specific program requirements.
- Gain insight into reviewing and providing feedback on the draft Application through Endorsement section, with suggestions for reviewing and submitting feedback using our feedback worksheet.

As part of these sessions, you'll have the opportunity to ask specific questions about the structure, organization, and how to use the draft section.

Registration

You must register to attend these information sessions. Space is limited; registrations will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis for each of the four sessions below. We encourage organizations that plan to have multiple attendees to register one individual only, and participate in the session via group conference call.

Preparation

To ensure that we maximize the value and time of all attendees, we ask that you prepare in advance by reviewing the draft Application through Endorsement section and other supporting information posted on FHA's new "Drafting Table" web page at:
